Washington News.

New York, February 28.

A letter from the Directors of the Western Union Telegraph Company says they resolved at a recent meeting to send a Commissioner to Russia to urge that Government to assume the construction of the Russo-American telegraph from the Amoor to the Russian possessions. If Russia refuses, it is probable that the line will be abandoned. The Atlantic Cable project is a success beyond the expectations of those who constructed it, but not being fully employed, which causes a reduction of its rates, is assigned as the reason for the abandonment of the enterprise. It is stated that the Company have expended two and a half millions of dollars, and has property and funds worth one million and a half.

The Herald's correspondence, dated St. Petersburg, February 1st, gives an account of Knox's journeyings throughout the Russian possessions, in which he was the recipient of the warmest hospitalities.

New York, March 1.

The Times says the private cause of Mr. Sumner's attack on Mr. McCulloch yesterday was the removal of Mr. Sumner's brother-in-law (Hastings), Surgeon of the Marine Hospital at San Francisco. Complaints had been made against him, and Mr. McCulloch removed him for cause.

Greeley writes from Washington that the primary cause of the defeat of the Tariff bill was the absence of Messrs. Conkling and Morrill, of the Ways and Means Committee, leaving the Committee in the hands of the enemies of the bill, who overloaded it with amendments. The master-spirit of the intrigue was Mr. Hooper, who aspires to the Chairmanship of the Ways and Means Committee next session.

The Tribune's special says the Committee of Conference on reimbursing the iron-clad contractors have agreed to the House amendments, which sends the whole matter to the Secretary of the Navy, thus virtually ending all idea of relief to the contractors.

The Herald's special says the President contemplates a clean sweep of the Cabinet, excepting the Attorney General. It is said that Judge Black, of Pennsylvania, will be Secretary of State.

A rebel General and ex-member of the Cabinet, believes the President would sign the Reconstruction bill but for the influence of Seward and McCulloch. He says the President is controlled by the Cabinet and outside rings.

In the House, on motion of Mr. Higby, the Committee on Public Lands was discharged from the further consideration of the bill in aid of the Stockton and Copperopolis Railroad.

The case of the Pacific Insurance Company vs. Soule, before the Supreme Court, involving the constitutionality of the law directing Collectors of Internal Revenue, in California, to reduce the incomes return from a gold standard to greenbacks, was dismissed, because of its being between citizens of the same State, and could not therefore be commenced in the Federal Courts, but should have been brought, in the first instance, in the State Courts, and then, on application of the Collector or other officers sued, should have been taken to the Federal Courts.

The law of 1864 does not apply to this case it did not reach California till the suit was decided there.

THE Dalles Mountaineer, of March 2d, says: We are permitted to copy the following portion of a private letter, from Pen d'Oreille City, I. T., of February 11th, to a gentleman residing in this city:

* * * Our mail has been very irregular between here and Walla Walla, on account of snow-drifts on the open prairie, and more recently on account of high water. Hangman's creek was so swollen that there was three feet of water on the creek bottoms, and the Palouse was exceedingly high. One of the mail carriers was lost in the snow, in January, for five days; he finally succeeded in reaching a house almost starved. The snow has now disappeared from here, with the exception of a few spots, and the frost is about out of the ground. The weather is very mild and spring-like, and might be called pleasant were it not for the high winds which are blowing from the south. We have had no ice this winter that would bear a mans weight, consequently our skates were useless. There has been nothing to prevent the steamers from running all winter, except wind. The weather is so mild I think pack-trains will be on the move soon. I should not be surprised to see them here before the 1st of March. I understand there is considerable excitement in the upper country in regard to the placer diggings, found late in the fall, on or near Thompson's or Vermillion river, and there are several parties now at Horse Plains waiting for the snow to leave so that they can go to work at mining. I hope it may turn out well, but, of course, all is uncertain.

THE RAIN FALL IN CALIFORNIA.—The records of the fall of rain in California, have been carefully kept for many years at Sacramento, by Dr. Logan, and at San Francisco by Dr. Gibbons. At the former, the gauge shows that the fall there is less than in any other part of the State, and the present year forms no exception. Up to the 4th of March the fall had been 23 inches; and of San Francisco up to the 25th of February the fall had been 26¼ inches, both being considerably above the average. Dr. Logan says the average fall for the three months of March, April, and May is 5 inches, and as the present has given evidence of being one of the rainiest of seasons, it may be estimated that at least seven more inches of rain will fall, making the total at Sacramento thirty inches or more. The deepest snow fall recorded is at Meadow Lake, near the summit of the Sierra Nevada.

"Why, Mary, my dear, how is this; I find you sitting here so comfortably with your husband? You told me this morning you had quarreled, and he'd gone for a sailor." "I, father! I told nothing of the kind." "Oh, nonsense; I'm sure you said you had some words together." "Yes, father, and so we had. He asked me what o'clock it was; I said I didn't know; and so he left the house, saying he was going to sea! That's all I told you."

A letter, dated Montevideo, says: "Happening to step into a bar-room, frequented by captains, mates, and river-men, who should I see laid out on a bench, and too drunk to move, but that illustrious son of chivalry, Captain Mafitt, the former commander of the pirate Florida."

FROM THE WEST.

(From the Reese River Reveille.)

San Francisco, March 12.

Colonel R. S. Williamson, Engineer of the Twelfth Light-house District, and Assistant Engineer, J. S. Best, sailed on the United States steamer, Shubrick, this morning, for a tour of inspection among the light-houses on the northern coast.

The principal object of their mission, however, is to select the sites for two light-houses of the first order, one at Cape Mendocino, California, and the other at Cape Blanco, Oregon.

Gold closed in New York last evening at 135.

San Francisco, March 13.

In the case of J. A. Verry vs. Nicaragua Steamship Company, in the United States court, the jury rendered a verdict of $2,000 against the company, being the value of the clothing, etc., destroyed by the wrecking of the Golden Rule on Roncador reef.

The Imperial Mining Company have declared a dividend of $15 per share, payable on the 16th instant.

The bark D. C. Murray arrived from Honolulu last night. They are having abundant rains at the Sandwich Islands. The Hawaiian Government had authorized the Minister of Finance to depreciate Spanish reals and English sixpences to the value of ten cents American currency. The Murray brings a number of cases of curiosities for the Paris Exposition. It is expected that with those forwarded, they will fill the space allotted to Hawaiian products.

THE WRONG "JOURNAL."—A member of the Kentucky Legislature, who doted on the Louisville Journal, and was to be found reading it every morning when the House assembled, was observed to always lay it aside when a motion was made to dispense with the reading of the journal of the House. Finally, however, feeling that he was imposed on, he rose and said:

"Mr. Speaker: I've sot here in my seat for mor'n a week and submitted to the tyranny of this House. Somebody every morning moves to dispense with the reading of the Journal, and I've lost every paper I've bought for a week by it, and no man has ever moved to dispense with the Democrat or Commercial; and Mr. Speaker, I won't stand it any longer. Mr. Speaker——"

The rest of the speech was lost in universal laughter.

MAGNITUDE OF THE EARTH.—The circumference of our globe is 25,000 miles, and so stupendous a circle may be best comprehended by comparison. For example, a railway train, traveling night and day, at the rate of twenty-five miles an hour, would require six weeks to go around it. The cubical bulk of the earth is 260,000,000,000 of cubic miles, and according to Dr. Lardner, if the materials that compose it were built up in the form of a column, having a pedestal of the magnitude of England and Wales, the height of the column wound be nearly four and a half million of miles. A tunnel through the earth from England to New Zealand would be about eight thousand miles long.

A solicitor for a life insurance company called on a down town merchant a few days since, with the view to effect an insurance on the merchant's life. He entered into general conversation with the gentleman, and having incidentally touched upon the benefits of life insurance, by way of breaking the ice, proposed to make out a policy for $10,000 on the merchant's life. "Sir," said the merchant, "I do not believe in life insusance. It is interfering with the decrees of Divine Providence; but if you can insure my safe arrival in the Kingdom of Heaven, I will take out a policy." "We should be happy to do so," replied the solicitor, "but it is impossible, as our company does not take extra-hazardous fire risks."

ORGANIZED.—We clip the following from the Sacramento Union:

The stockholders of the Dutch Flat, Little York and You Bet Wagon Road Company, met pursuant to published notice and completed their permanent organization on the 2d of March, and elected the following named gentlemen as officers: Joseph Gardiner, of Little York, President; James T. Mathewson, Secretary and Treasurer; Charles Sefferns, E. L. Bradley, Charles Palmtag and the President and Secretary, Board of Directors. They also adopted a code of by-laws for the government of the company.

FRESHET IN NAPA.—The Reporter of February 22d says:

In consequence of the late heavy rains, Napa river again flowed over its banks. From Thursday to Friday night Spanish town was flooded, the water coming to within a few inches of the high water mark during the December storm. About the only damage we learn of in our county is the washing away of a few small bridges.

A MAN named Peak, who owned a large farm and other property, near Capt. Frost's, on the Tuolumne River, says the Stockton (Cal.) Independent, recently committed suicide by swallowing a dose of strychnine. It appears that he had been at Woodbridge on a spree, purchased the poison and carried it to his home, where he put an end to his life. We have been informed, that he willed his property to Charity Lodge, No. 6, Independent Order of Odd Fellows.

The Burnished Shield.

In olden time, (so run's the story,) two gallant knights, armed cap-a-pie, as was the wont of cavaliers in those days, rode gaily along the King's highway: the one galloped on prancing steed from the east, the other from the west. As the noonday sun shone brightly on the scene, the two knights met by chance at a point on the road where the monarch had erected a glowing Shield, in token of some victory won. Both gallant knights reined up their fiery steeds, while he from the west, gazing on the uplifted emblem of his Prince's victory, exclaimed, "What, ho! Sir Knight: how beautiful a silver Shield is here." As the object of their mutual admiration reflected the bright rays of the sun from its burnished surface, the other, saluting the stranger knight, replied in courteous tones, "A beautiful Shield, indeed! a beautiful golden Shield." "What say you, Sir Knight," again spake the first, "a golden Shield? By my lady, 'tis not of gold, but brightly burnished silver." And so they contended, till high words followed, and the knightly challenge was given and accepted. With visor down and lance in rest they fought, there upon the highway, till at last one gay steed galloped riderless away over the mead, leaving his master prone upon the earth with mortal wound. As the life-blood trickled from his wounds, the dying warrior cast his eye upon the Shield, and called to the victor, and pointing upwards, said, "Thou wast right, Sir Knight; behold the Shield is gilded, as thou saidst. Thy pardon now I crave." "Stay, friend," said the other, "behold thou, too, wast right; for on the other side the Shield is silver." And so it was. The western face of that Shield was silver, and the other gold. And so the knights had fought in vain.

Thus like the silly knights do men and women go through the world, judging not merely of things, but of each other, from their own stand-point. We could each of us be forsworn if the shield were not gold, and yet our neighbor knows that it is silver. Neither has wit enough to pass to the other side and view the object of dispute from his neighbor's side. The little story of the Knights has its moral beyond its seeming importance, and teaches charity and caution how we adhere to our own peculiar views, or at least how we challenge the sincerity of those of our fellows. If all men thought exactly alike on every subject, we might have a very harmonious world, but surely a very insipid one. It was not strange, either, that our two knights should have thought the Shield, the one of silver, the other of gold. But their folly was to quarrel over the matter. Yet that was the way in the days of chivalry. In our own days we do about the same—less the chivalry. But we did not intend to moralize on this ower true tale. We leave it to our readers to fill it out and apply the moral, which is as pointed as it is indisputable.

About no one part of the globe do travelers, and even home folks, differ so much as about Utah and its surroundings. Some there be who only see the silver lining of the Shield, and, heedless of the "other side," know not whether it be of gold or darker hue. The story of Mormondom, as told by travelers and sight-seers, is as varied as the several circumstances under which the narrators have seen it.

Horace Greeley has been lecturing of late concerning the "Great West," and has a word or two to say about Utah, which lies in the very track of advancing empire and civilization. What he saw when here and hereabouts he tells bluntly and plainly. Here is his view of the Shield on the "King's highway." The knights of these days battle with quills, and the only blood they spill is printer's ink—more effective in the decision of great questions than all the lances poised or life blood spilled in more chivalric days. In the report of a recent lecture at the East by Mr. Greeley, we find the following:

The lecturer's sketch of life in Utah was of great interest, and his personal experiences there afforded him good opportunity for dropping some of his quiet good things, sufficiently valuable to be picked up and treasured by all who heard them. He dwelt at length on the curses being rapidly developed by the great social evil of the Mormons, polygamy; and while he characterized the people as industrious and peaceful, and did not question their honesty in the profession of their peculiar doctrines, he saw, he believed, in this vice alone the sure evidences of confusion and ultimate ruin. He had no doubt, he said, that there were houses in Utah where peace and harmony resided with the husband and his four wives and more. He had no doubt of the possibility either of all the wives of Brown being on good terms with those of Smith or Jones or Robinson; but it was nevertheless true among the Mormons, as it was true elsewhere, that no woman accepted her sixth or fourth of a claim in the husband without the consciousness of a blight of her existence. Talk of love, he said, no man that was not stone blind, who saw the stone walls that inclosed the prison-houses of the women, could assume that there was love among these people. It was "safe bind, safe find"—the necessary law of such relations. Every day further developed the truth of this. The wealthy were building higher walls. It was but a repetition of the system which had proven the downfall of so many nations; and in Utah, as in these, either polygamy will be abolished, or there will be many a bloody struggle. He had met there the son of one who had once been a wealthy merchant in New York, and an Alderman, when that position was not synonymous with robber. The son was not as wealthy as the father had been. He had two wives, nevertheless, and one of them (incredible but true,) was the daughter of the other! The affair was looked upon quite as a matter of course by the saints, and, he supposed, worked as well as the three-cornered affair could be expected to behave itself, until he went home one day and found the young one had disappeared. She had not been heard of when he (the lecturer) had left, nor did he presume he had since recovered her. She preferred, no doubt, the favors which were not divided with her mother. He had, also, even among the Bishops, met several not over happy in their marital relations—one who had among his wives two of his nieces; another whose two wives (he was a widower) never spoke to each other on any occasion, which made the house rather awkward to visitors. Only imagine to yourself, said this lecturer, a family of twelve children, with four or five mothers to bring them up in one house, and you have as fair a start for hell upon earth as you can well imagine. Ten years in such a purgatory would make a man long for the sound of Gabriel's trumpet. With much more that was racy and instructive about Mormons, their country and their customs, the lecturer passed on toward his journey's end, describing the approach to the fruitful fields and forests of California.

Hepworth Dixon, the English traveler, saw the silver side of the Shield, and we leave these knights of the quill to settle their differences between them.

At midnight last night, the Senate passed the supplementary Reconstruction bill by a vote of 28 to 2. The nays were Buckalew and Hendricks. Reverdy Johnson, of Maryland, voted aye. The other Democrats were absent.

New York, March 17.

C. E. Evans, General Eastern Agent of the Southern Railroads, reports that the damage to the Virginia and Tennessee Railroad will be repaired so that freight and passenger trains will run through to Bristol on the 17th. The East Tennessee and Virginia Railroad are running trains through, and will run to Knoxville, and the East Tennessee and Georgia Railroad is all right; freight and passengers go to Dalton, and thence to Arlington, without detention. Arrangements are now completed by the Chattanooga Railroad Company to transport freight and passengers to Bridgeport by the 18th. The track between Chattanooga and Nashville is badly damaged, but a large force is at work, and it is expected trains will be run to Nashville in two weeks.

New York, March 17.

A sensational Sunday paper states that Roberts and the Fenian Senate are making extensive preparations for a new Canadian campaign. They have twenty thousand breech-loaders, and it is said that 15,000 to 18,000 Fenians will cross into Canada at the order of Roberts, as soon as transportation can be furnished. The objective point will be Montreal, but Kingston and Toronto will also be attacked.

The steamship City of Baltimore, from Liverpool the 6th and Queenstown the 7th, has arrived. The Cork and Dublin papers have copious details of Fenian raids, but contain nothing of special note additional to the cable telegrams.

Cairo, Ill., March 17.

Great suffering exists at Mound City in consequence of the inundation of that town. The citizens of Cairo to-day sent up a boat with provisions, and $1,500 in money, for the sufferers, which was joyfully received. The trains on the Illinois Central Railroad run through water a foot deep for a distance of three hundred yards at the Mound City junction, but the levee is still firm.

The Brazilian elections had resulted in the success of the conservative party.

The revolution in the Argentine Republic had not been suppressed, the Government forces having been defeated; but vigorous measures were in progress, and the National Guard had been called out.

Buenos Ayres papers bitterly denounce a continuance of the war with Paraguay, and the alliance with the "Nigger Empire," as they style Brazil.

Hon. Charles Eames died yesterday. He was formerly Commissioner at the Sandwich Islands, and afterwards Minister to Venezuela.

New York, March 18.

The Herald's special says: Messrs. Benjamin Baker and James W. Meagher, representatives of the Irish Republic in America, had an important interview with President Johnson yesterday afternoon, with the view of soliciting the recognition of its belligerent rights by the American Government. The delegation was cordially received, and Mr. Baker, on behalf of the Fenian Brotherhood in America, made an address, in which he asked that the Irish Republic shall be respected, as a Government actually in existence, and at war with Great Britain, by the Government of the United States; and that the Government of the United States shall insist that rights to which the Irish Republic is entitled during war shall be respected by her adversary, the English Government, and according to the rules which nations should reciprocally observe when decreeing their differences by arms. He [illegible] very attentively, and said the great question was, "Is there a de facto Government actually in existence?" The delegation told him that there was, when [illegible] question shall receive any [illegible] consideration; that considerations [illegible] deciding a matter of such [illegible] You are aware that my sympathies [illegible] ways been with your people. The [illegible] asked the prompt interference of this Government in behalf of American naturalized citizens now dying in British dungeons. The cases of Meany and O'Brien were dwelt upon. They argued that if the British Government were justified in declaring these persons for fighting and speaking in America against English tyranny, they would be equally justified in imprisoning prominent journalists and public men who were naturalized citizens, and who had written and spoken in a similar way, should they happen to put foot on British soil. The President said that measures had been taken for the release of several naturalized citizens, and that details and particulars of all other cases forwarded to the Government would receive attention, and that full justice should be done to naturalized citizens.

Chief Justice Chase, on whom devolves the duty of nominating and recommending the Registers in Bankruptcy provided for in the Bankrupt Act, declines to assume the labor and responsibility of making the selections, without submitting to the entire Court the question of the power of Congress to impose upon him this duty.

The Secretary of the Treasury and Treasurer Spinner both affirm that there is not the slightest evidence in the Treasury of any over issue, either of 7-30's or of fractional currency.

The Tribune's special says the President on Saturday sent to the Senate a large number of nominations of Postmasters, Collectors and Assessors.

A Committee on Public Expenditures will be appointed to-day. They will proceed immediately to examine further into the official conduct of Collector Smythe, and will probably report before adjournment whether or not Smythe's offences warrant his removal. It is thought the President will remove him, and end all further controversy. The President's conduct in not removing Smythe is being made most of by those men in Congress who are working up the impeachment. Mr. Hulburd will be Chairman of the Committee.

The Reconstruction bill, as it passed the Senate, will come up in the House to-morrow, and a Committee of Conference will be had immediately, it being the wish of the members of the House to have the matter settled as soon as possible.

Dublin, March 17.

The fears that the Fenians would attempt another general rising in Ireland to-day have not been realized. Dispatches from all direction report the country quiet. Frequent arrests are made by the police in the disaffected districts.

London, March 17.

The Reform bill which is to be brought into Parliament by Government, to-morrow, will give the right of suffrage to rate paying householders, after two years residence; to men paying £1 yearly taxes, or having £30 in a savings bank, or £50 in the funds; and to all members of the learned professions and graduates of Universities. The bill also provides for a £15 franchise in counties.

Southampton, March 17.

The steamship Mississippi, from New York, arrived this morning, and after landing passengers and mail, proceeded on her way to Bremen.

AN ANCIENT REVOLVER.—In the historical collection of Dresden is an object of great interest—a perfect revolving pistol of more than 200 years old, no antiquated, half-made, rough, rudimentary affair, but as thoroughly finished a pistol as were the Toledo and Damascus blades of older date. It is of the same size as a Colt's revolver, and not only were the revolving barrels of precisely the same structure, size, and shape, but they were six in number. The only point of inferiority was that in this there is no spring to bring up the next barrel when one is fired. It must be done with the hand. Col. Colt was shown the pistol when in Europe, shortly before his death. His face was very expressive when he saw his own invention applied more than two centuries before. Of course the lock was flint, and yet being a revolving lock it was packed away in a very small space, and the whole aspect of the pistol was as neat and attractive as any modern revolver. There is also another fire-arm still more interesting. It is the Whitworth gun, perfect in every respect, except that the bore is square instead of six-sided. Truly, there is nothing new under the sun!—Ex.

FROM PAHRANAGAT.—A private letter received in this city, dated Logan Springs, March 4th, contains the following.

"Everything is now looking up. The people here are very sanguine that a great future awaits this country, notwithstanding such an opinion meets with opposition in certain circles, by those who have been disappointed. The lodes which are being worked upon, all look well. The weather is splendid. Mr. Raymond's ten-stamp mill is now at Hicko; Conger's mill is at Logan. Bidwell's mill will be built at Hatfield's Ranch; there is plenty of water there now. About one hundred tons of very rich ore has been taken out of the "List Lode," and it continues to look well. Carl Chapin has married Mrs. Warren; Hitler has gone to San Francisco; Dr. Conger has gone to Salt Lake. Allen is in Austin, but is soon expected back. The future looks cheering."

A POWERFUL FERTILIZER.—Every farmer has soot at command, whose presence in stovepipes or chimneys is not unfrequently the cause of fires, occasioning the loss sometimes of both property and life. This agent for evil is one the most valuable manures, and nothing but the most culpable carelessness and indifference will suffer it to remain a standing menace to life and property, when it can be easily removed and turned to good account in the field or garden. Twelve quarts of soot in a hogshead of water will make a powerful liquid manure, which will improve the growth of flowers, garden vegetables, or root crops. In either a liquid or solid state, it makes an excellent top dressing for grass or cereal crops.

"SOAK" POSTAGE STAMPS.—It will scarcely be credited, at first thought, that twenty tons of postage stamps have been used during the year. Such, however, is the fact, and by artificial measurement they would cover an area of forty-eight and a half square miles, or, as a curious calculator says, enough to roof a large township, with all its houses, barnes, churches, gardens, forests and farms; or, if you choose to make a ribbon of them, enough to reach nearly from the equator to either pole, or twice the length of the Mississippi river. So that if everybody would be obliging enough to use the Government stamp on the envelope itself, the mere omission of these little extra bits of paper would lighten the mail bags by more than forty thousand pounds, and save in paper $15,000 or $20,000.

SALT FOR PRESERVING POSTS.—A correspondent of the Chicago Prairie Farmer writes as follows, touching a method for preserving posts:

Having just read an article on the preservation of timber in your paper of December 8th, and believing that some cheap, certain, and practical method of arresting the decay of timber, and especially of fence posts, would save an enormous amount of labor and expense in repairing fences every few years, therefore I will endeavor to give a cheap and certain method for the preservation of posts—without cost of patent, and yet it is a "white substance" which is easily obtained. It is salt. I examined posts this season which a friend had set twenty-five years ago, and yet they show very little sign of decay. How much longer they will last I know not, but presume from their present appearance that they will last some fifteen or twenty years yet.

Another friend has two lines of fence which were made as near alike as could be, except the posts for one line were salted and the others were not. These two lines were built eight years ago, and the difference is now very perceptible. The posts which were not salted appear to be tired of standing, for they are reeling in every direction, while those which were, stand firm and erect, just as though they defied the ravages of time.

Now for the process. It is simple, cheap, and easy, and without cost of patent, and has been tested more than two years, like that white substance which I read of. Bore two holes in each post with an inch auger—one so that it will be about six inches under ground when set, and the other about a foot above the surface—fill the holes nearly full of salt, and plug them up with short pins.

To have the greatest effect, posts should be salted and wet while the timber is green, so as to prevent the sap from souring, which, I think, is the start of decay.

The reasons why salt prevents the decay of wood, I am not chemist enough to fully explain, but facts demonstrate such to be the case. Who ever saw salt barrel staves rot? Will they not lie around for years without showing any signs of decay, if, in the meantime some old cow does not lick them to death.

THE SURPRISE OAT.—The Chicago Prairie Farmer says:

Western farmers have of late, through various sources, heard very much of the Surprise oat, grown by Van Olinda of DeKalb county. The history of the oat is briefly given. Six years ago Van Olinda found a single head of oats in his wheat field that struck him as differing from any grain of the kind he had ever seen. There were but seven grains upon the stalk. Five of these were planted at the proper time the succeeding season, and from them the crop of the present year, now offered for sale, descended. The yield this year is represented to have been 133 13-14 bushels per acre, and the truth of this statement is attested by men with whom we have long been personally acquainted, and whose word we have no reason to doubt.

That this variety is two or three weeks earlier than ordinary oats is also certified to by the same parties. In appearance the oat speaks for itself, it being very large and plump, and weighing about forty-six pounds to the bushel. The straw, as we have seen it, grows about five feet in length, is very strong and is not liable to fall. The heads are of extraordinary length, frequently measuring eighteen or more inches, and bearing upon all sides.

Van Olinda showed us a sample of these oats, ready labeled for the great Paris Exposition, where he expects to eclipse all competitors, as he no doubt will in quantity produced, at least, if not in quality.

Oats like these must have superior advantages in any market where oat meal is an object. They are also pronounced by brewers in this city to be superior to any oats they have ever examined for malting purposes.

Farmers who desire to make the most money from their crops will not overlook the merits of this new candidate for public favor.

ARIZONA COPPER.—Yesterday the Montana carried away the first lot of smelted Arizona copper ever shipped to New York. About 250 tons of this ore has arrived here within the last fortnight from the Colorado river. The lot which was forwarded yesterday is from the Great Central mine, at Williams' Fork, and is of fine quality, averaging 93¼ per cent., with a small admixture of the precious metals. The Great Central Mining Company expect large shipments shortly, and will soon be in a condition to forward from fifty to one hundred tons of bar copper by every steamer.—San Francisco Times, March 19th.

We clip the following from the Alta California of the 3d inst.:

A young lady of this city, who has been some time studying for the stage, will make her debut at Maguire's Opera House, shortly, in "The Bride of Prince Doria."

Mdlle. Pauline Celeste, the bold young lady who walked a rope stretched from the Cliff House to Seal Rock, has recovered from the injuries which she sustained by falling, at the Willows. It is in contemplation to offer Mdlle Celeste a complimentary benefit, which the public will join in making a substantial one.

Judge Rix sentenced John Stork, Gat Jones, Henry Martin, Martin Burns, Wm. Abearn, John Connelly, John Burte, Patrick Moloney, Frank Harrison, and Charles McMahon, the Chinese rioters convicted by the Grand Jury on Thursday last, to pay a fine of $500 each, and be imprisoned in the county jail in addition, and in event of nonpayment of the fine, to serve its equivalent in the county jail at $2 per day.

Remarkable Cholera Cure.—500 Cases Treated—No Death.—All the medical cholera schools use camphor in their treatment of cholera, and its value has been admitted on all sides, yet it has always failed to effect the desired cure, unless the supervision of Dr. Rubini should prove an exception. The "saturated spirits of camphor" used by this eminent Neapolitan physician consists, as we learn from a correspondent of the London Star, of equal parts, by weight, of camphor and spirits, and to the power thus obtained he attributes his success in the treatment of the disease. The ordinary spirits of camphor consists of one part by weight of camphor to nine parts of spirits of wine, while the homeopathic preparation is made by mixing one of camphor to five of the spirits of wine. The quantity of camphor which water will take up is small, and to obtain the "saturated spirits of camphor of Rubini," it is necessary to distil spirits of wine, and get rid of so much of its water as will bring it to 60 degrees overproof, in which condition it will dissolve and hold in solution its own weight of camphor.

With this "saturated spirits of camphor" Dr. Rubini treated in Naples 532 cases of Asiatic cholera without the loss of a single patient. Of these 532 cases 200 were cured in the Royal Almshouse, 11 in the Royal Poor-house, and 166 in the 3d Swiss Regiment of Wolff. That the 377 cases treated by Dr. Rubini in these public institutions were all genuine cases of Asiatic cholera, and some "terribly severe," and that all recovered, the evidence of the following distinguished individuals, with their official seals attached, sufficiently attests: H Generale Governatore Ricci; Il Maggiore Commandante Nicola Forni; Il Capitano Commandante Fileppo Rucci, Colonel Eduardo Wolff. The method of cure is as follows: "When a man is seized with cholera he should at once," says Rubini, "lie down, be well wrapped in blankets, and take every five minutes four drops of the saturated tincture of camphor. In very severe cases the dose ought to be increased to from 5 to 20 drops every five minutes. In the case of a man of advanced age, accustomed to take wine and spirits, where the drug given in drops has no effect, give a small coffee spoonful every five minutes, and in a very short time the coveted reaction will occur. Ordinarily, in two or three or four hours, abundant perspiration will come out and then cure will follow." "The preventive method," writes Dr. Rubini, "is this: Let those who are in good health, while living in accordance with their usual habits, take every day five drops of the saturated spirits of camphor upon a small lump of sugar (water must never be used as a medium, or the camphor will become solid, and its curative properties cease,) and repeat the dose three or four times a day. Spices, aromatics, herbs, coffee, tea and spirituous liquors should be avoided."

Here, then, we have as strong a prima facie case made out as can be well conceived in favor of the preventibility and curability of the Asiatic cholera, and that by a remedy which is at once portable and inexpensive and which all sections of the medical profession have heretofore employed, and can therefore, raise no objection to employing again in increased potency.

Startling Announcement.—The Visalia Delta, of the 27th ult., says:

On last Sabbath a little girl living with Mr. Samuel Evans brought into the house, warm from the nest, a singular looking hen's egg upon which was plainly inscribed the words, "O ye inhabitants of Visalia, repent for the prophet will be in your midst in 1867." The letters appear as though raised on the surface of the egg by an impression made from within. This may or may not be a matter of great importance to Visalia, but at all events, the admonition to repent is timely and highly appropriate. As to what prophet is referred to there seems to be a doubt, and as we already have one prophet in our midst, and a great many others who make large pretensions in the same direction, this part of the announcement may not be of so much consquence to us as it would be to a people less favored.
